About this website

www.tinastrust.org is operated by Tina's Trust, a Scottish charity, number SC054353. Contact tinastrust2025@gmail.com or write to Tina's Trust, Taigh Brae, Lamlash, Isle of Arran, KA27 8JT. These terms explain use of our information website. Our Privacy Policy, Cookie Policy, Grant Making Policy, Complaints Policy and Donations and Refund Policy provide further information.

Information and applications

We aim to keep information accurate and up to date, but it may change. Grant information explains our current approach and does not promise an award. Grants are subject to eligibility, assessment, available funds and the terms of any written award.

Information about FTD is for general awareness and information. It is not individual medical advice and does not replace advice from an appropriate healthcare professional. Seek professional advice about symptoms, treatment or care decisions.

Content and acceptable use

Our logo, text, photographs and other material belong to us or are used with permission from their owners. You may view the site and share links. Unless material is expressly licensed otherwise or an exception in copyright law applies, ask us before reproducing, adapting or using our logo, photographs or substantial website content. Do not imply our endorsement without permission.

Do not misuse the website, attempt unauthorised access, introduce harmful software or interfere with its operation.

External links and availability

Links to other organisations, resources or payment providers are supplied for convenience. Those organisations are responsible for their own content, services and terms. We review links where practicable but cannot guarantee their accuracy or continued availability. We may update, suspend or remove website content as necessary.

We do not guarantee uninterrupted access or that every item of information will be complete or error-free. Nothing in these terms excludes liability that cannot lawfully be excluded or limits statutory rights. Any separate sales, booking or grant terms apply to those arrangements.

Changes and law

We may update these terms and show the effective date above. Scots law applies, subject to any mandatory legal protections or jurisdiction rights that apply to you.
